Bosox Win Third Series Game By 4-0 Score

MURRY DICKSON AND BOO FERRISS MATCH PITCHES

Fenway Park Jammed To See Boston And St. Louis Continue Battle

FENWAY PARK, BOSTON, Oct. 9.—The Boston Red Sox took a 2-1 lead in the 1946 World Series here today by blanking the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 in the third game of the series.

Rudy York's home run over the left field wall in the first inning with Ted Williams and Johnny Pesky on base accounted for three of the runs and the other came in the eighth on an error after Relief Pitcher Ted Wilks gave up a double and single.

A big fellow who works best before the home crowd won for Boston while a game little pitcher who has been good on the road for the Cards was the losing hurler.

The little fellow with a sharp breaking curve ball and a lot of baseball heart was Murry Dickson, who won the playoff game against Brooklyn which gave the Cards the National League pennant.

His season's record was 15 victories—nine of those triumphs coming on enemy diamonds—and of his six defeats, four of them came at home. So, while he didn't do so well before his home fans when he went out on that pitching mound on foreign fields he was all but invincible.

With Dave (Boo) Ferriss it was a different story. Of his 23 victories against six defeats, 13 of his triumphs came at Fenway park, and never once did he leave the mound charged with a defeat. His losses all came away from home.

Dickson was taken out of the game in the seventh for pinchhitter Dick Sisler who forced Harry Walker, on base with a single.

The betting still was 20-7 that the Red Sox would come through, but there was no doubt from the battle which the Cardinals had put up in St. Louis that this series was going to be one of the toughest in the classic's history. For the Cardinals at home showed that they belonged in the same league with the Red Sox and now that they were playing on hostile ground figured they couldn't miss.

If the series doesn't end in Boston, it would be Dickson again in the sixth game, scheduled for Sportsman's park on Sunday, Saturday being an open date for travel. And if a seventh game is necessary at St. Louis Pollet will be called upon again.

Cronin would not go beyond his nomination of Ferriss for the third game today.

Until the teams arrived after dusk last evening there had been some doubt whether today's game would be played in view of a forecast which called for rainy weather. But late last night the forecaster predicted the rain would hold off to get this third game of the world series into the record books without weather interference.

BIKINI FORCE SMALL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The 42,000-man Army-Navy force assigned to the Bikini atomic bomb tests has dwindled to 2,220 men and tentatively is scheduled to be dissolved in about three weeks, it was learned today.

NO PROBE PLANNED

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today said he could not seek grand jury investigations of gambling in Ohio although there are half a dozen counties in which it could be done. He charged his Republican opponent for governor, Thomas J. Herbert, with making "reckless statements" conveyed in "a fanatical desire to be elected."

CLOUDS BLOCK METEOR SHOW

Astronomers Hoping Haze Will Lift Tonight To Permit Study

BY PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer
Astronomers, both expert and amateur, packed up their cameras and portable telescopes today and headed for the open spaces in the country where they hope to see the celestial show of the century. They have calculated that the meteor shower from the orbit of the Giacobini-Zinner comet will reach its maximum brilliance tonight at about 10 o'clock EST. You don't need a telescope to see the show.

If so, and the weather permits, the northern half of the western hemisphere of earth should see many thousands of shooting stars. The astronomers were apprehensive about two things.

One, that clouds will block their observation; and two, that the moon, which will be full tonight, may be too bright.

It had been expected that the comet's trail of meteors would produce a preview last night, but the curtain raiser was a big disappointment. Most of the nation's observatories reported that over-cast skies prevented an observance, while those on the west coast complained that the moon was too bright.

EARLY RETURNS SHOW ALASKANS SEEK STATEHOOD

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 9.—Alaskan whites, Indians and Eskimos have piled up an early two to one lead in favor of statehood for the territory, early returns showed today. The court was complete from 11 of 53 precincts in southeast Alaska.

Republican candidates made a strong showing in the race for the territorial senate and legislature. E. L. Bartlett, Democratic incumbent, maintained an edge over Republican Almer J. Peterson in the race for delegate to congress.

Weather disrupted communications and delayed early results from northern and western Alaska, with only the little isolated community of Point Barrow reporting a slight edge for statehood and Bartlett.

Balloting yesterday was heavy, but final results probably will not be known for several days.

Americans To Eat More But Meat Will Be Short

BY GRANT DILLMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The average American next year will continue to eat about 15 per cent more than before the war even though his diet won't include as much meat as he'd like.

In a preview of next year's food outlook, the agriculture department said that while meat and some other foods will continue scarce because of abnormal demand, others will be plentiful at free market prices.

The department also said in another report that the goal of 60,000,000 jobs will be reached next year barring major industrial

SURVEY SHOWS HUGE DROP IN MEAT RECEIPTS

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Independent retail grocers had 62 per cent less meat in September than they had in June—the last preceding month of price control—the National Association of Retail Grocers said today.

Moreover, the grocers had only 18 per cent of the meat that they received in August, the association reported on the basis of a nationwide survey.

Mrs. R. M. Kiefer, secretary-manager, said the association had polled independent stores of all sizes in 68 cities.

She said replies from the retailers indicated that the meat supply had shrunk so critically in some sections of the country that one store in West Virginia reported receiving no meat at all during September, compared with 1,875 pounds in June.

In making public results of the survey, Mrs. Kiefer charged that efforts of government agencies "not only have failed to provide adequate supplies of certain foods, but have actually worked to decrease those supplies."

Circleville Residents Join In Tribute To Ted Lewis On His 35th Anniversary

Mayor Ben H. Gordon said Wednesday that he will leave Circleville Saturday night and will travel by train to New York City to attend the Ted Lewis anniversary celebration Sunday night in New York's Latin quarter.

Lewis, a native of Circleville, will celebrate the 35th anniversary of his entrance into show business.

Mayor Gordon said he will likely be accompanied by a group of prominent Circleville citizens but that complete arrangements are as yet incomplete. The return trip will probably be made by plane in order that the members of the Circleville group may arrive home in plenty of time for the opening of the 40th annual Pumpkin Show on Wednesday.

Celebrities of the entertainment world will pay tribute to Lewis at the New York celebration Sunday night. Stage and screen and disputes, and that individual income payments may reach an all-time high of $175,000,000,000. Such an income level would be six per cent higher than this year and nearly three times as large as the prewar average of $67,000,000,000 a year.

Net farm income next year is expected to dip 10 to 15 per cent under 1946 as a joint result of higher operating costs and the diversion of consumers' dollars from food to automobiles, homes and other durable goods.

The department said supplies of meat, chicken, turkey, skim milk products, vegetable fats and oils, fresh fruits, canned fruit juices, potatoes, sweet potatoes and dry beans will be about the same next year as this.

Some cut is expected in the supply of eggs, fresh vegetables and dairy products. The consumption of fluid milk, cream and ice cream may be reduced somewhat, however, by generally higher retail prices.

On the other hand, there may be slightly more butter, lard, evaporated milk, cheese, citrus fruits, canned and frozen fruit, flour, corn products, rice, sugar and fish because of smaller exports and military demands.

The department said continued meat shortages probably will result in heavier demands for poultry which may contribute to higher prices. Dairy and poultry products are not under price ceilings.

Fairly large supplies of fruit are indicated for next year as a result of heavy imports of tropical fruits and a prospective record citrus crop in this country. Nearly all of the heavy pack of fruits and juices will go to civilians.

SAUCKEL 'MENTAL CASE'

NUERNBERG, Oct. 9.—An Army spokesman said today that of the 11 condemned Nazi war criminals Hermann Goering had become a shattered and broken man, and Fritz Sauckel had become a "mental case."

radio stars, leaders in the field of music, top producers, and many other friends of the famous band leader will be present.

Among the features of the celebration will be a big banquet, and one-half of the profits of the night club for Sunday evening will be donated to Ted Lewis park in Circleville which was named in honor of this city's famous son.

"Is Everybody Happy?" is the widely known salutation of Ted Lewis, nationally known as the high-hatted tragedian of song. As the years have rolled by his pride in Circleville has been equalled only by this city's pride in Lewis as its No. 1 citizen.

In the long ago Ted Lewis was Theodore Leopold Friedman in Circleville. Some old-timers may recall when Lewis, as a lad, was "fired" by Prof. Oscar Ameringer from a boys' band for peeping up

JOHN SHORT, 64, STRUCK BY CAR

Father Seriously Injured When Auto Driven By Son Skids On Road

John Short, 64, Kingston, was being treated in Berger hospital for injuries suffered in an unusual accident Tuesday at 11 p. m. on the Kingston pike, about 1.5 miles south of Route 56.

State Patrolman C. E. Wells, who investigated the accident, said John M. Short, 29, a soldier home on furlough, was driving his father's automobile when the auto skidded and hit the father while he was walking along the highway.

According to the report father and son were riding in the automobile when it developed engine trouble. Believing that the gasoline supply was exhausted the father started walking to hunt for a gas station. His soldier-son stayed with the auto and a few minutes later got it started.

When he came to where his father was walking Short applied the brakes and the back end of the car skidded and knocked the father into a ditch.

Examination of Short Sr. at the hospital revealed numerous lacerations, concussion and possible skull fracture, Patrolman Wells reported.

COUNCIL TAKES UP APPEALS OF NAZI CRIMINALS

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—The Allied control council took up the appeal of 16 Nazi war criminals today, with high American military government officials predicting that all the Nuernberg verdicts would be upheld.

If the council sustains the Nuernberg sentences, Hermann Goering and 10 of his colleagues will die on the gallows a week from today, and the other convicts will begin serving prison terms.

the "Poet and Peasant", and the old days when Lewis played the clarinet in E. L. Peters' nickelodeon, also when he passed handbills, sold peanuts, ushered, and led an Uncle Tom's Cabin bloodhound in a parade on Main street.

Later when Ted Lewis seized a jazzy clarinet, donned a moth-eaten high hat, introduced sentimental song-talk, and strutted on the "big time" throughout the nation, Circleville friends rejoiced over the success of a home town boy.

In the years that have since elapsed Circleville had also rejoiced over Lewis' phenomenal success in which he has traveled in every state in the United States, has made four trips abroad professionally, and has appeared before seven presidents, the king of England, and countless members of royalty.

MOLOTOV TALKS FOR UNITY BUT OPPOSES COMPROMISE PLANS

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said today the East-West division among nations is becoming absurd and suggested compromises on "certain outstanding questions," but made clear that he is unwilling to yield on Trieste.

Molotov charged Britain and the United States with trying to set up a semi-colonial regime in Trieste. He blamed Trieste disturbances on the Anglo-American occupation forces and asked the conference to set an early, exact date for their withdrawal. He said Trieste should be organized like pre-war Danzig.

"Division of the west from the Slav states, or East from West, is becoming an absurdity," he told the peace conference 48 hours after his return from Moscow.

"Such labels confuse the issue. It is not a question of a Slav or eastern group on one hand or an anti-Slav or western group on the other."

"The Soviet delegation is as anxious as any other delegation to assist in strengthening cooperation among all democratic states," he said. "I call on all others to consider such cooperation essential."

Molotov said Britain and the United States were increasing dissension by trying to isolate the Slav states and "punish" them by interfering with their natural development.

While urging a spirit of cooperation, Molotov disclosed no tendency to compromise on the critical Trieste issue. He placed full blame for disturbances in the area of the Anglo-American forces, charged Britain and the United States with trying to set up a semi-colonial regime there and served notice that he thought Yugoslavia eventually would get Trieste, anyway.

He denounced the East-West division as artificial.

GARSSON CASE TO GRAND JURY

FBI Furnishes Evidence For Thursday Hearing Before Federal Jury

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Justice department lawyers worked over evidence in the Garsson munitions case today preparatory to going before a federal grand jury here tomorrow.

Secrecy surrounded the sensational new development in the case of the $78,000,000 Midwest munitions empire. It was founded with borrowed letterhead by Dr. Henry Garsson and his brother, Murray W. (Wolf) Garsson—and subsequently was investigated by the senate war investigating committee for alleged war profiteering.

Rep. Andrew J. May, D. Ky., elderly but debonair chairman of the house military affairs committee, was "guardian angel" for the Garssons, according to testimony before the senators.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark announced that William A. Paisley of the criminal division, armed with evidence uncovered by the FBI, will handle the justice department's case before the grand jury.

Clark gave no hint of the newly discovered evidence. But another justice department official said there were "six and possibly seven alleged violations of the federal code in the Garsson case, including conspiracy, bribery and theft."

The senate investigation of the Garsson combine opened July 1 and ran from headline to headline until July 25 when May fell ill with a heart condition on the eve of a scheduled appearance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Navy reported today that former secretary of state Cordell Hull rested fairly well last night but that his condition remained serious.

LIE MAY ENTER ATOMIC DISPUTE

Baruch Defends U. S. Plan For Control Of Bomb At UN Meeting

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Trygve Lie of Norway, secretary-general of the United Nations, emerged today as a possible arbiter in the United Nations atomic energy commission if the western powers and Russia fail to break their deadlock over international atomic control.

Lie left unanswered the question of whether he might use his powers under the UN charter, if at all, to play a part in the arduous negotiations aimed at outlawing atomic weapons and harnessing nuclear power for the benefit of mankind.

But the UN chief asserted his right to intervene under the UN charter last night in a surprise addition to an otherwise routine speech honoring Bernard M. Baruch, chief American delegate to the atomic energy commission. He said he did not plan to do so for the time being.

Baruch, recipient of the annual freedom house award as the author of the American atomic control plan, took the occasion to reaffirm vigorously the United States proposals and to condemn what he called "deliberately created confusion" about those proposals.

Without naming names, Baruch struck back for a second time at the claim of Henry A. Wallace, former secretary of commerce, that the United States was seeking an unfair advantage by continuing to keep and manufacture atomic bombs until other nations (Continued on Page Two)

HOSLER TRIAL POSTPONED BY INDICTMENT ERROR

Trial for Lawrence Hosler, 53, Pickaway county man indicted several weeks ago on a grand larceny charge, has been postponed indefinitely, it was disclosed Wednesday, because the indictment charges the crime was committed in 1944 when in fact it occurred in 1946.

The case may have to be considered by the next grand jury. Hosler pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for Sept. 30, was postponed until Oct. 7, and on that date was again postponed when the error was discovered in the indictment. Hosler has been charged with the theft of a saddle, electric drill, and brooder heating unit, the property of George Van Camp.

Yugoslavs Pay U. S. $150,000 For Shootings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The state department revealed today Yugoslavia has paid the United States $150,000 as indemnity for the lives of five American aviators killed when an unarmed transport plane was shot down Aug. 19.

Yugoslavia refused, however, to pay for the loss of this plane and another one shot down with no casualties. The U. S. is still pressing for payment for the aircraft. Lincoln White, state department press officer, told newsmen U. S. Ambassador Richard Patterson delivered a note to Yugoslavia yesterday acknowledging receipt of the $150,000 payment. He said this was "roughly" what the United States had asked for the lives of the aviators.

Justice Department Heads Find Nothing Against Growers, Packers

CONTROL REPEAL URGED

Two Cabinet Members Want Truman To Remove Meat Ceilings At Once

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—An intensive investigation by the justice department and FBI has found no evidence of collusion or conspiracy by industry to create meat shortages, it was revealed today.

High justice department officials said the inquiry yielded nothing to substantiate charges that cattle growers and packers were creating artificial shortages in order to destroy OPA and get higher prices.

They said any withholding of meat or cattle was a normal economic reaction to the lower prices prevailing since price controls were restored last month. At any rate, they did not find that packers had much meat.

At the same time, it was learned that at least two cabinet members are urging President Truman to reverse administration policy and abolish meat controls immediately. Mr. Truman believes the meat situation will ease up soon and refuses either to raise or remove ceilings now.

The two cabinet members proposed that suspension of ceilings be for an indefinite period to avoid charges that the move was taken for political purposes. They referred obviously to a proposal by House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, Mass., that controls be lifted for 60 days—until a few weeks after the congressional elections.

The two cabinet members also are urging Mr. Truman to take steps to do away with barriers limiting importation of meat from Canada and Mexico to relieve the shortage of this country.

The justice department utilized the resources of the FBI and its (Continued on Page Two)

By United Press
New York had an acute shortage of sweets today and sugar brokers said it might spread through the nation if the shipping strike continues.

The supply of sugar also was short in Washington and Boston, and the OPA indicated that it might hike the price of "penny candy," the source of satisfaction for the moppet's sweet tooth.

OPA officials agreed at a meeting with packaged candy manufacturers in Washington yesterday that higher prices for sugar and chocolate would have to be passed on to consumers. This could be done either by higher prices or smaller pieces of candy.

CHIANG IS 60

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek celebrated his 60th birthday anniversary today, according to the lunar calendar, of which this is the 15th day of the ninth month.

Family parties were held in Nanking and in Chiang's hometown of Fenghua, 120 miles south of Shanghai. The official national celebration of Chiang's birthday anniversary will come Oct. 31.

Yugoslavs Pay U. S. $150,000 For Shootings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The state department revealed today Yugoslavia has paid the United States $150,000 as indemnity for the lives of five American aviators killed when an unarmed transport plane was shot down Aug. 19.

Yugoslavia refused, however, to pay for the loss of this plane and another one shot down with no casualties. The U. S. is still pressing for payment for the aircraft. Lincoln White, state department press officer, told newsmen U. S. Ambassador Richard Patterson delivered a note to Yugoslavia yesterday acknowledging receipt of the $150,000 payment. He said this was "roughly" what the United States had asked for the lives of the aviators.

The state department said the government "could not accept the Yugoslav contention that the Yugoslav government has no responsibility for the loss of the unarmed transports shot down Aug. 9 and 19."

Consequently, it said, the U. S. "must ask the Yugoslav government to reconsider its refusal to make compensation for the loss of the aircraft."

NO EVIDENCE OF COLLUSION IS UNCOVERED

Justice Department Heads Find Nothing Against Growers, Packers

(Continued from Page One) criminal and anti-trust divisions in the search for evidence of possible collusion to create meat shortages in order to force an end to price controls.

"There just was no evidence of such a conspiracy," an official said. "They didn't have to get together in the growing or packing end of the industry to decide they wanted to keep their products off the market in hope for a better price. That's just sound economics on their part."

One official said he had received a "very reliable estimate" from a prominent member of the meat industry that even if price controls were removed on meat, it would be 120 days before any sizeable amount would reach the consumer.

The reason, he said, is that many of the cattle thus far purchased for feeding have not yet been put in the feeder lots and that other cattle are not ready for feeding or slaughter.

Requests from various governors for a justice department investigation of the meat situation continued to arrive here, but it was pointed out to them that the inquiry had long been underway. As late as yesterday, Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio asked for an FBI investigation of the shortage in his state.

Meanwhile the agriculture department's livestock experts threw their weight behind President Truman's contention that the meat situation should improve soon.

They said supplies should pick up within the next few months although output will remain "relatively low" the rest of October as a result of premature marketings in July and August when price controls were off.

"Meat production in September was the lowest in years," they said in a review of the livestock situation. "Production is likely to remain relatively low in October, but will increase within the next few months."

The prediction was made in the face of fears on the part of some agriculture officials that livestock producers will hold their animals until controls expire next June 30 and then glut the market.

"The result might be a sharp drop in livestock prices which would set off a downward spiral not only in agriculture but also in the entire national economy since the worker's welfare is linked directly with that of the farmer," one official said.

MEAT SHORTAGE MAY BE ISSUE IN OHIO VOTING

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—The meat shortage and justice of the Nurnberg war crimes trials today apparently had become two of the main campaign issues in the 1946 Ohio elections.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche and State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, both Democrats, have called for investigations of and action on the meat situation.

Ohio's Republican U. S. Senator, Robert A. Taft, yesterday described the meat shortage as a result of "the obstinacy and stupidity of administration policy." He said the only solution is price decontrol.

Lausche instructed the state agriculture department to make spot checks on the reports of meat cold storage warehouses.

The state auditor, meanwhile, called upon President Truman to take direct action to alleviate the meat shortage. He said some Republicans were attempting to starve the American people into voting for a Republican congress.

Ferguson asked President Truman to take over the raw materials and processing facilities necessary to produce adequate supplies of meat.

U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, said he expressed "a personal opinion" in condemning the Nurnberg trial procedure in a talk at Gambier, O. last week and had no intention of creating a political issue but Democrats criticized his statement.

GOVERNMENT IN NEW APPEAL FOR SHIPPING PEACE

By United Press

The government appealed to striking CIO maritime leaders today to clear the way for a partial settlement that would restore peace on the east and gulf coasts but leave unsolved the west coast phase of the nationwide shipping tie-up.

Apparently operating on the theory that half a loaf is better than none, federal conciliators called into conference officials of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (CIO). They hoped to persuade the CIO union to go along with AFL strike leaders in agreeing to a piecemeal settlement.

Other U. S. labor officials, meanwhile, scheduled negotiations aimed at ending work stoppages in the film, power, transit, newspaper and other industries.

Prospects for settling transportation strikes in Chicago and Columbus, O., waned as company and union representatives reached an apparent impasse on the important wage issue. And striking Tacoma, Wash., bus drivers began picketing belt line buses, completely cutting off public transportation facilities in that city.

A non-striker was clubbed yesterday when he tried to pass through a picket line around Columbia studio, one of nine Hollywood film companies affected by a jurisdictional strike.

AMNESIA VICTIM IS HELD IN PICKAWAY COUNTY JAIL

Perhaps suffering from amnesia, a giant aged Negro was in the Pickaway county jail, Wednesday, apparently unable to remember his name or his home address. He is 6 feet 2 inches tall and appears to be about 65 years old.

Questioned at length by Sheriff Charles Radcliff the prisoner, who was arrested Monday at Ashville and was fined $5 and costs there by Justice of the Peace Elmer Malone, was seemingly unable to recall details of his past life. He said he thought his name was Jake Jones but he wasn't certain about it.

The man insisted he did not know how he traveled to Ashville, or why, or from where he came. Sheriff Radcliff said the aged Negro's pockets held four pocket knives but no cash and nothing that would help in identifying him.

MORE RECLAMATION FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The interior department's bureau of reclamation probably will get an additional $15,000,000 for its 1946-47 fiscal year public works program, it was learned today. This would mean a total of $100,000,000 for reclamation bureau programs in the fiscal year, instead of $85,000,000 as ordered by a presidential economy order two months ago.

GUILTY PLEA IS MADE TO ARSON CHARGE HERE

William Teal, Circleville, pleaded guilty to an arson charge, Tuesday afternoon, before Justice of the Peace Harold O. Eveland. He was ordered held for action of the Pickaway county grand jury and Justice Eveland fixed bond at $200. Teal was remanded to the county jail in default of bond.

The affidavit against Teal, filed by Deputy State Fire Marshal William H. Icenhower, Washington C. H., alleges that on Sept. 20 Teal set fire to an outbuilding at the home of his estranged wife, at 332 West Huston street. Firemen estimated the damage at $75.

the other should not take place," he said. "This smacks of something backward, of going backward to when the East was backward. Today the young Slav states are in need of each other, especially when other states disregard their national interests."

The Slav states are anxious for friendly relations with other states, he continued, but such relations must be based on equality and reciprocity.

Molotov reminded the world that there are 13 additional states in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics besides the three represented at this conference. He did not elaborate. It was recalled that at San Francisco, Dimitri Manuilski of the Ukraine said eventually all 16 Soviet republics would seek a separate vote in the United Nations.

"The so-called old democracies," Molotov said, are trying to isolate the young Slav states to deprive them of natural development and "punish" them for not acting submissively. He quoted Nicolai Lenin as saying, "people who have taken their destiny in their own hands are invincible."

Other highlights of Molotov's 30-minute speech:

(1) The Italian treaty must preserve Italy's sovereignty and must not lead to "economic enslavement of Italy by other, more powerful nations."

(2) None of the treaty issues on which the big four previously agreed have been substantially modified here, but on the other hand there has been no substantial progress on the so-called unagreed clauses.

(3) The Anglo-American proposal for the statute for the free Trieste zone is contrary to democratic principles and therefore contrary to the big four agreement.

(4) The Soviet Union again will insist that the Soviet proposal for the Trieste statute be accepted and the Anglo-American plan rejected.

He closed in a conciliatory vein, leaving the door open to compromise and appealing for all to seek agreement, which he said was possible.

The conference will vote today on the Italian treaty.

DEATH CLAIMS DR. CASTLEMAN, VET OSU COACH

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—Dr. Frank R. Castleman, 69, for 30 years a member of Ohio State University's department of physical education died at his home here today after an illness of several months.

Dr. Castleman was graduated from Colgate University, where he was a track star and competed in the 1906 Olympic games. He later was director of athletics at the University of Colorado, and was named track and cross-country coach at Ohio State in 1913.

He received the degree of doctor of medicine from Ohio State in 1915. He coached several famous Ohio State track stars, including Tracy Pittenger and Larry Snyder, the present track coach at the university.

MARSHALL MEETS CHOU

PEIPING, Oct. 9.—Gen. George C. Marshall conferred today with Chinese Communist leader Chou En-Lai, as nationalist troops captured two key cities and drove to within 18 miles of the Chahar province, Communist stronghold of Kalgan. Marshall visited Chou in Shanghai and returned to Nanking in the late afternoon. Details of the conference, which came the day after Chou reportedly spurned an American-sponsored truce plan, were not disclosed immediately.

HEIRENS WILL GO TO HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 9.—William Heirens, 17, convicted slayer of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan and two women, has been adjudged mentally unbalanced and will be transferred next week to the Menard state penitentiary for the criminally insane, it was announced today.

Warden Joseph Ragen of the state prison here disclosed plans for Heirens' transfer after the youth stoned an armed guard yesterday in the prison recreation yard.

Ragen said that the transfer had been recommended by the state psychiatric classification board and Dr. Roy G. Barriek, state criminologist.

Heirens, serving three consecutive life terms, has been under constant study by Dr. Barriek and members of the psychiatric board since he entered the prison last Sept. 6.

The youth was described at first as a "model" prisoner but has become increasingly nervous, Ragen said, and has threatened several times to commit suicide at the first opportunity.

Yesterday afternoon, Heirens was in the prison yard with other prisoners when he suddenly began hurling stones at a guard in one of the towers, Ragen said. He told a second guard who ran to his side that he had hoped to provoke the tower guard into shooting at him.

BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

A bride of two weeks, Mrs. Eleanor L. Williams filed suit for divorce, Wednesday in Pickaway county common pleas court, charging Harold Robert Williams with gross neglect of duty.

Mrs. Williams is a minor and her petition, filed for her by her mother, Mrs. Stella M. Groom, gives no details of the accusation but recites that the marriage occurred Sept. 24, 1946 in Circleville. Mrs. Williams also asks for restoration of her maiden name, Eleanor L. Groom.

In another suit, filed Wednesday, Mrs. Georgia M. Root seeks a divorce from John D. Root on grounds of gross neglect of duty. She says they were married Oct. 22, 1945. Mrs. Root is a minor and the petition, filed in her behalf by her mother, Mrs. Nellie M. Mettler, contains no details of the charge. Mrs. Root also asks for alimony and the custody of an infant son, Dewey Junior.

SHIP HITS MINE

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Lloyd's shipping registry reported today that the 10,441-ton American tanker Signal Hills hit a mine 36 miles off Leghorn, Italy, and is being towed to port in a disabled condition. There were no reports of casualties.

PROBE AIR CRASH

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 9.—Civil aeronautics officials today sought the cause of a pre-dawn crash of a four-motored United Air Lines Mailliner in which two of the 47 persons aboard were killed and four others seriously injured.

LIE MAY ENTER ATOMIC DISPUTE

agree to "effectively prohibit" atomic bomb manufacture.

"I would be recreant in my trust if I dared to recommend the immediate abandonment of a major weapon in our arsenal—the bomb," he asserted.

"How can any one ask destruction of existing bombs unless their manufacture is effectively prohibited? Why should America alone be asked to make sacrifices by way of unilateral disarmament in the cause of international good will? If equality of sacrifice be needed, then each should participate."

Shortly before Baruch took the floor to say in effect that the United States would not compromise with Russia on the fundamental aspects of the American plan, Lie praised Baruch and said the current debate in the atomic commission over the divergent American and Russian plans was natural because of "the complicated nature of the problem."

"It is not my duty—at least for the time being—to take sides in that debate," he said.

The words "at least for the time being" were not in the prepared text of Lie's speech. He emphasized them and looked at the half dozen UN atomic commission members seated near him as he spoke.

Later Lie told reporters he had no immediate plans for taking a part in the atomic debate, but that under article 99 of the charter he reserved the right to do so at any time. The article empowers the secretary-general to bring to the attention of the security council any problem he considers likely to threaten the maintenance of peace and security. Since the atomic commission is an arm of the council, Lie probably could intervene in the commission's meetings without going through the formality of speaking his piece in the council.

Lie, a taciturn and meticulously non-partisan figure in the UN, already has served notice that in the case of border friction between countries he feels empowered to name investigating commissions and otherwise call such situations to the council's attention.

MIGLORE FREED FROM JAIL HERE ON PROBATION

Albert Joseph Miglore, 28, confessed bigamist, was reunited Wednesday with his wife, Naomi, and their infant son, in their home at 1729 Elmwood avenue, Columbus.

An entry ordering Miglore released from the Pickaway county jail and placing him under five years probation was filed Tuesday afternoon in the office of Clerk of Courts Arthur Wilder. The entry bears the signature of Common Pleas Judge Eramitt L. Crist.

Judge Crist had considered the decision since Sept. 12 when Miglore appeared in court, changed his plea to guilty on the bigamy indictment and pleaded for freedom on probation. Judge Crist disclosed Wednesday that the decision was made, to some extent, on the recommendation of Miss Mildred Louise Hammerle, 19, West Huston street, the Circleville wife No. 2.

The "marriage" with Miss Hammerle, which occurred July 1, 1946, in Circleville, has been annulled at her request. Miglore was arrested July 8, 1946 on a warrant sworn to by Wife No. 1 and County Prosecutor Kenneth Robbins subsequently refused to permit her to withdraw the charge.

At the time of the bigamous marriage Miglore was manager of the cheese plant of the Arista Corporation, Circleville, where Miss Hammerle was employed.

CPA LIFTS RESTRICTIONS ON WOMEN'S FASHIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—All government restrictions on women's fashions went out the window today except those controlling length and sweep of skirts and sale of certain ensembles at a unit price.

The civilian production administration did the trick in amending the now-famous style-order L-85. Invoked during the war to conserve scarce materials.

The agency warned that both distribution and exhibition of women's clothes which fail to conform to the remaining restrictions are prohibited. This ban applies whether the apparel was made in this country or abroad.

HARDIN NAMED PICKAWAY CAGE TOURNEY HEAD

Plans Made For Organization Of County Teachers; Text Book Survey Studied

Selection of John Hardin, superintendent of the Pickaway township school, as manager of the 1947 county basketball tournament, was announced Tuesday by George D. McDowell, county superintendent of schools.

Supt. McDowell also announced the naming of Harold Strous, superintendent of the Saltcreek township school, as executive secretary for the tournament, succeeding A. A. White, superintendent of the Scioto township school.

The action was taken, Supt. McDowell explained, at a recent monthly meeting of the rural school superintendents. He said that three projects also were decided upon, namely the organization of a Pickaway County Teachers' association, a text book survey, and a county-wide study of teachers' salaries.

Supt. McDowell said the formation of the teachers' organization is now in progress and that to conduct the text book survey he named a steering committee which includes, besides himself, Walter Harris, Ashville school superintendent; Brice Connell, Darby township school superintendent; and Kenneth Christy, Monroe township school superintendent.

The purpose of the salary study, Supt. McDowell explained, is the ultimate adoption of a single salary schedule. The committee appointed to proceed with this project is composed of C. D. Bennett, Walnut township school superintendent; R. D. Shauk, Jackson township school superintendent; John Hardin, Pickaway township school superintendent; Harmon Carter, principal and coach at the Deer creek township school; Williamsport; Miss Georgia Dore, elementary teacher, Ashville; Miss Nellie Campbell, elementary teacher, Wayne township school; and Miss Margaret Chilcote, elementary teacher at Saltcreek township school.

PLANNED DEATH
ENDORSEMENT of "euthanasia", voluntary painless death of incurables, has come from 54 Protestant New York ministers, according to the New York Times. Mercy killings for those desiring it and suffering painful and fatal diseases would be legalized by a federal bill with certain safeguards. Among the clergymen reported as seeing nothing "anti-Christian" in such a program are Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Rev. Ralph Sockman and Rev. Guy E. Shipler, editor of the Churchman.

Here is the great puzzle. Many, unmoved by ethical or philosophical considerations, will feel that the Euthanasia Society treads on dangerous ground. Who among the living can be so wise as to determine, for himself or others, when life should cease? How insure against criminal tampering with a "voluntary" death?
Perhaps the most impressive argument of all against "mercy killings" is that they would dull the eternal fight of medicine against human ills. Gradually through the years, one disease after another once labeled incurable succumbs to the onslaught of science.
The victim, suffering "incurably" today, may tomorrow find a new treatment conquering the disease and bringing longer life with new health and strength. The sulfa and penicillin groups of remedies are the strongest recent arguments against euthanasia.

HELPING THE DEAF-BLIND
A new organization, the Committee for the Deaf-blind, has been started under the American Foundation for the Blind. It is headed by the world's most famous deaf-blind woman, Helen Keller, who planned it. Writing from Foundation headquarters in New York City, Miss Keller makes an eloquent plea for "those loneliest human beings on earth."
The trained blind, she points out, live happily in a world of sound. The deaf have eyes to rely on. But the deaf-blind can't escape from dreadful monotony of silent days only through the sense of touch. By training this, their remaining sense, they can be restored to life's goodness and the dignity of useful work, man's divine heritage, binder up of broken hearts.
When one's spirits drop to a bottomless low, here is inspiration for going on—Helen Keller out to help other Helen Kellers scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Capital News...By Frederick C. Othman

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 9—The frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is being shocked. Cider's gushing golden in the mills. The fields are hazy in purple. And the paper shufflers back in Washington are a million miles away.
Poor devils. I wish a few of 'em could be along with me, sniffing the spicy smells of harvest time and maybe even talking to a few of the citizens here in a land where the dollar, in spite of everything, still is worth a dollar, or almost.
They'd learn, I think, a little humility.
What I'm trying to get at is the fact that I drove here from the capital to attend a sample of that great American institution, the convention. Where everybody wears a badge on his lapel, has a wonderful time, and maybe even does a little business on the side.
This particular convention happened to be a meeting of Pennsylvania newspaper publishers. They brought their wives along, their editors, and many of their reporters. The U. S. bureau of labor conciliation will be interested to know that boss and hired hand weren't bitter enemies. They were pals, boss bought reporter eggs for breakfast; boss' wife talked with reporter's wife about meat, lack of it. I don't believe that secretary of Labor Louis Schwellenbach will have to worry much about these people. OPA Chief Paul Porter need not worry about them, either.
The ladies, and I say it advisedly, are more. A few have storage lockers of meat that they bought when price ceilings were off, but mostly they serve their husbands omelettes. Porter will be interested to know that they are tired of this and that they blame him.
The publishers held one session concerning the newsprint supply. The papermakers' agents were there. Several men had copies of the Philadelphia Record, printed in part on brown wrapping paper. They were worried about the paper shortage, but they were not planning on any appeals to the OPA.
I believe it is fair to say they were figuring on ways to remain in business in spite of the OPA. What Porter does, or doesn't do, is a matter almost of academic interest to them. They're depending not on the government, but upon themselves. Worried they may be, but they still know how to smile.
They even smiled when I made a speech. They said—and that

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY
By JACK GAVIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—After a day in the Browning Hills around Stamford, Conn., with the sky cloudless and the sun a smart 80, I can only recommend that Hollywood give the Nutmeg state the nod more often as a production center. I have no verification of reports that it does rain or snow up there occasionally.

The 20th Century-Fox unit filming "Boomerang" was taking full advantage of the weather yesterday—but not to make pictures. The beautiful weather was strictly for pleasure; the work was being done indoors.

In the paneled library of banker Frank Altschul, Connecticut actor Ed Begley was explaining to Dana Andrews that he owned a certain parcel of land and if the election didn't go the way he wanted it to go so the city would buy the land at his price he would be a ruined man. Andrews said he wanted no part of any such scheme. They were, of course, play-acting. There were cables and lamps all over a third of the Altschul house.

"We've done most of our crowd scenes in Stamford," Director Elia Kazan explained. "We used some citizens of the town and I must say they were more responsive than Hollywood extras—not bored with the work. I hope there'll be more of this on-the-spot picture-making, wherever it may be. You get an authenticity you can't get in a studio."

The reason "Boomerang" is being filmed in Connecticut is because the story is based on a real murder case in Bridgeport some 20 years ago. All of the names in the film are fictitious, of course, including that of the state's attorney, who in the real life case was Homer Cummings, later U. S. attorney general under Franklin D. Roosevelt. Stamford is being used instead of Bridgeport because it seems the latter city doesn't like to be reminded of the case. The idea of the film is to applaud the American legal system and to warn against mixing it up with politics. In the picture the town will be called Fairport.

The estate of millionaire Altschul is being used for a nominal sum because he's quite interested in the work. However, the only member of the family to appear in the film will be Moses, a scottie.

Pretty Jane Wyatt showed up in the afternoon for some further shooting. She's playing the wife of Andrews, who is the state's attorney. She said she appreciated the fine weather, but she's anxious to get back to her family in Hollywood.

Next week, the company moves to White Plains, N. Y., to film trial scenes in the photogenic court house there. Just for the record, this is the fourth full-length feature film to be shot in its entirety in New York or the East in a little over a year.

The United States seems to be divided between the people who want to charge higher prices, and those who think them already too high. On this difference of opinion the next national election may turn.

"You can't please the rest of the country" says a sad New Yorker. "They even grudge us our horse meat."

"The Authority on Authorities"

WATCH ALL DISCARDS
REGARDLESS of whether you are the declarer or a defender, an important phase of good card playing consists of watching all discards and making the logical inferences from them. At either a suit or No Trump contract, if a long suit is being run by someone, on which you will have to discard, the discards of another player frequently form the sole guide for your own action. When you are a defender, your partner's lowest card from a particular suit usually tells you he is relinquishing protection there and wants you to retain yours, as he is guarding against some other suit or suits.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN
BARRY POURED himself a small straight shot. He asked, standing with it in his hand, "Why doesn't Craig like you?"
Val said, "I don't like him. And it's simple enough. He does on his insecure job here. If you call it a job, it didn't suit him to have his dear Uncle Norman remarry. . . you'd married Abby, so that possibility was out of him."
"I suppose so," he added thoughtfully. "Haven't been making passes at him, have you?"
"At that jerk? Are you out of your mind?"
"No. He's not unattractive," said Barry. "Madge always said he was on the bloodless side, but I wouldn't be too sure. He's young. . . and so are you—and you are cooped up here together in this elegant foxhole day after day."
Val said, "Do you think he'd jeopardize his position with Norman?"
"Oh," said Barry. "I catch. Out of boredom, whether you like him or not, you did try, just for fun, just to keep your hand in? Well, that's very entertaining."
She said, "Oh, shut up, Barry. You make me tired."
He said, "It might not jeopardize his position if he didn't wave banners or send an item to the local papers. Personally, I think that Wallace encourages you to amuse yourself. How about what's his name? Your short, dark and mysterious refugee. . . the one we met last autumn? My spies saw you having a cocktail or two with him in the King Cole Room."
"Don't be silly," she said shortly. "I'm just wondering," he told her. He put his glass down. "When do you expect the doctor?"
"After he's seen to Jay. Barry, come here. Sit down."
He sat down, found himself too close, and tried to move away, but she put her hand out and took his and held it. She said, "Barry, believe me, I thought it would work."
He smiled, feeling uneasy but interested, which were very normal reactions, even for a married man in love with his wife. "This?" he inquired. "Don't you overestimate yourself or underestimate me?"
"I don't mean that I mean. . . this house. . . Norman. . . everything. All I wanted. . ."
"You don't want it any more?"
"No."
He said, "There's a way out, you know. Nevada, Idaho, Florida. . . several ways."
She looked at him, her dark eyes level. She said, "As long as I have it I'll hang on. I've told you that. You can fight to keep something, even though you no longer want it."
"Seems senseless," he told her. "Maybe I'll hate myself for asking, but what do you want, Mrs. W?"
She said, "You. I've always wanted you, Barry."
She pulled him toward her so suddenly that he almost lost his balance. He thought, wildly, First time in my life I've been more kissed than kissing. He couldn't deny that it was an experience. Yet not too convincing. Why? He thought, holding her closer, a purely reflex gesture, he assured himself. Why? Or, why not?
Someone turned the door knob and Val removed herself from Barry's vicinity. Craig looked in. He regarded the room, and he RABIES is a terrible disease, starting suddenly with great irritation of the nervous system, and ultimately bringing about paralysis and death. Since we have no cure for it, we are fortunate indeed that it is primarily a disease of dogs and is acquired by human beings only as a result of being bitten by a rabid animal.

We are very lucky in another respect, too, in possessing a preventive vaccine. This was worked out by the great French scientist Pasteur and where given early enough to one who has been infected, the development of the disease can be stopped almost without exception.

What to Do
With this in mind, the average man wants to know what to do and when to do it should he or a member of his family be bitten by a dog which might be infected with rabies.

Circumstance will determine the answer. If the animal can be found, it should be kept under observation. If it does not develop symptoms of rabies within two weeks, no further concern need be felt. If it does, there will still be time for the antirabic serum to take effect because, though the time between infection and the onset of rabies varies, in the great majority of cases, it is 20 to 60 days.
There is one exception to this. Bites on the face or neck are particularly dangerous. Therefore many doctors feel that in these cases there should be no waiting at all. In other words, one should not

ALL INVITED TO TAKE PART IN FLOWER SHOW

Pickaway Garden Club To Be In Charge Of Pumpkin Show Feature

A flower show for all citizens of Pickaway County is being planned by the directors of the Circleville Pumpkin Show.

Any and all amateur flower growers in Pickaway county are invited to exhibit their flowers at the flower show of the Circleville Pumpkin Show this year. According to a ruling handed down by the State Fair association an amateur is any person growing flowers who does not sell more than $25 worth in one year. Children also are urged to make entries in the classes for children. Additional space has been added to make room for proper staging.

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell is the director of the flower show and the staging and entries are under the auspices of the Pickaway Garden club. Mrs. Blanche Y. Motesman, president of the club, has appointed Miss Florence Dunton as exhibit chairman and she will be assisted by Mrs. J. P. Moffitt, Miss Mary Heffner, Mrs. Charles Smith and Miss Winifred Parrett. Each afternoon and evening of the Pumpkin Show members of the club will be on hand to answer questions and furnish information on the flower display.

Several new classes have been added this year. One of unusual note will be the arrangement of carved garden vegetables or pikes. A class for the most dependable flower of this area, the petunia has been added, and you might try for a prize in another class. Bring a container of all kinds of garden flowers, the greatest variety wins.

Those planning to enter should read the prize list and enter flowers in a specific class using container and kind of flower as stated in the premium list. Those having any questions about statements on the premium list may call Miss Florence Dunton, chairman of the exhibit committee, or any committee member, at any time before the opening day of the show.

Early entries are desired. Entries will not be received after 2 p. m. Thursday, October 17.

Miss Ruth Schultz, associated with the Capital Seed company, Columbus, will serve as judge for the show. Miss Schultz is an accredited judge and is widely known throughout Ohio for her work along these lines.

Rules and regulations and the prize list for the flower show include:

1. Entries are open to any adult in Pickaway county who wishes to exhibit. Amateur growers only. Exhibitors may compete in as many classes as desired—with entries, one to a class.
2. All flowers, vegetables and fruit must be grown and arranged by exhibitor.
3. Entries will not be received before Thursday at 9:00 a. m., and not later than 2:00 p. m.
4. Only one entry permitted in each class from any one family.
5. Exhibits not meeting specifications of the schedule will be disqualified.
6. Any premium may be withheld at the discretion of the judges. Inferior exhibits will not be judged.
7. The management will not be responsible for any loss or breakage of containers or materials used.
8. Specimen flowers exhibited for quality only.
9. Foreign foliage and accessories will be allowed in all arrangements.

Pickaway Administrators To Attend One-Day School In Columbus Tuesday

George D. McDowell, Pickaway county superintendent of schools, and most of the superintendents of the county's 12 rural schools, it was announced Wednesday, will go to Columbus for a one-day session next Tuesday at Central High school auditorium when Ohio's 960 rural school administrators will become students.

The one-day school faculty will be Dr. Clyde Hissong, state director of education, and the staff of the Ohio department of education. Classes will start at 10 a. m. and continue until 3:30 p. m.

In a personal letter to each of Ohio's 88 county superintendents of schools, Dr. Hissong urged each county superintendent to attend along with each of their local school district executives.

"The purpose of this important gathering is to acquaint rural school superintendents with the urgent need for developing a plan in each community for improving the quality of their teachers as well as a program for the recruitment of the best qualified prospective teachers," Dr. Hissong emphasized.

He also pointed out that these key school men in Ohio rural education will have an unusual opportunity to become better acquainted with the many services of the State Department of Education, members of its professional staff, and its program for the improvement of teaching in Ohio's public schools.

Harold J. Bowers, chairman of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification, will preside at the morning session which will feature important discussions on improving the quality of teachers, recruiting young people for teaching, and new plans for distributing slides and films in counties.

R. M. Eymann, assistant superintendent of public instruction, will preside at the afternoon session starting at 1:40 p. m. This session will consider problems of school finance, vocational education, scholarship testing programs, handicapped children, public school lunch and surplus property.

CHS RESERVES DROP 6-0 GAME TO LANCASTER

Long Run After Penalty Erases Tiger Score Wins For Gales

Circleville high school reserves football team lost its first game of the season Tuesday afternoon at Lancaster, dropping a 6-0 decision to the Lancaster reserves.

Most of the action took place shortly after the opening kickoff. The little Tigers kicked off to Lancaster. The host team fumbled and CHS took over on the Lancaster 20. Some line plays and a pass took the ball down to about the three-yard line from where Dick Francis pushed over for a touchdown. But the Tigers were offside, the officials ruled, and they were penalized.

On the next play Francis, back to pass, was surrounded by little Gales, one of whom snatched the ball from Francis as he tried to pass and galloped 95 yards for a touchdown.

From then on the two teams battled back and forth in the middle of the field. Neither got close to the goal line during the rest of the game.

Assistant Coach Tommy Bennett, who was in charge of the squad, reported that the Lancaster reserves presented the best-organized team his charges have faced this season. He was well-pleased with the play of several of his charges.

He started a team made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores. In the starting backfield were Hill, Francis, D. Ferguson and Wiloughby. On the line were Stein and Cottrell, ends; Radcliff and Albright, tackles; Hennis and Wells, guards; Mogan, center.

Next Thursday, October 17, the reserves will play Logan reserves here.

DESTINY'S KIDS READY TO WIN

Cards Say Only Rainstorm Can Stop Them In Boston Park

BOSTON, Oct. 9 — Barring a hurricane, "Destiny's Kids" were ready today to take over where they left off in 1942.

The St. Louis Cardinals, cocky and adventurous over thought of playing in a park in which they never had played before, figured that only a roaring rain storm could stop them now in their World Series battle against the Boston Red Sox.

"Sure, I know that they are home, but I also know that my right hander, Murry Dickson is ready to go after them," said Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals.

"And I think that he ought to show them a thing or two, even though he has never pitched in Fenway park before. That shouldn't bother him because he was our best pitcher on the road all season."

While Dyer was figuring on what to do in case it didn't rain the Cardinals were reminiscing about 1942 and hoping that history might repeat itself.

That was the year the Cards faced the New York Yankees in the World Series when the Yanks were the overlords of all baseball. The Cards then were supposed to apologize even for detaining the Yankees long enough to go through the formality of a World Series.

So what happened? The Yankees won the opening game and the odds promptly soared to 1 to 5 in their favor to win the series. The Cardinals took the second game, playing at St. Louis as they did in the current series, and they went to New York 3 to 2 underdogs as they are today. Then without any prompting they took the next three games and the world championship.

Dyer, who scanned the odds as he landed in Boston last night gave the managerial equivalent of a "pooh-pooh" to the figures and insisted that they were out of line.

"We have a bunch of boys who think they can win, and if they do it, who is to say that the odds against us were correct?" he asked.

What was most upsetting to the Cardinals was the backwash of that Florida hurricane. Even though they are the team that is supposed to be all worn out from the heat of battle in the long pennant race with the Brooklyn Dodgers, the Cards think they are "red hot" and they don't want to be slowed up for anything.

Not even a hurricane.

SERIES ODDS QUOTED

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 — Betting Commissioner Jimmy Carroll set up the Boston Red Sox as 2 to 5 favorites to win today's World Series game, with the St. Louis Cardinals quoted at 2 to 1. The Sox were 3 to 10 favorites to win the championship; the Cards were held at 12 to 5.

THREE COLLEGE ELEVENS WITH SHUTOUT MARKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 — With collegiate football only three weeks into its season, statistics showed today that only three teams in the nation boasted unscathed upon records.

Vanderbilt, Harvard and Davidson have played two games or more without an opponent crossing their goal line, according to records compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

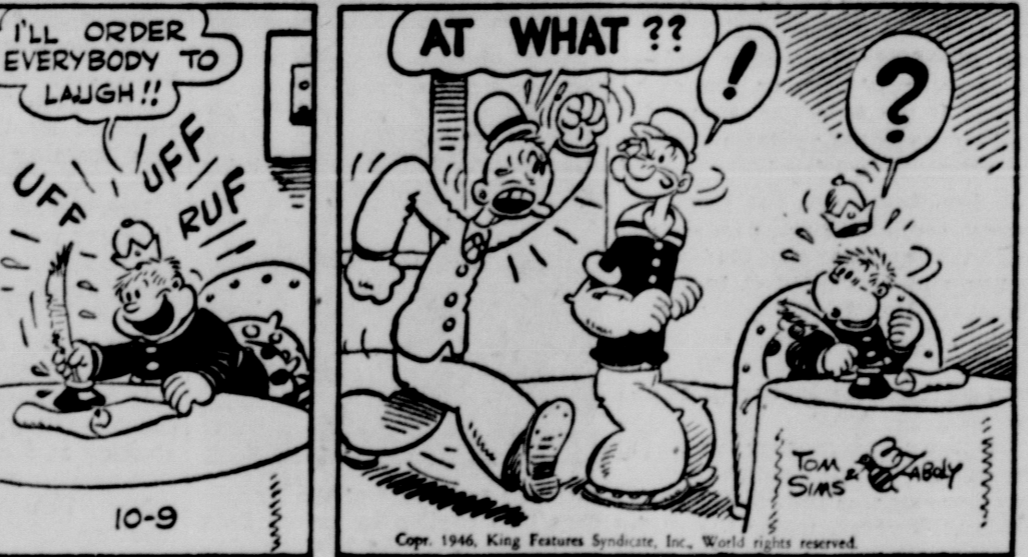

Little Davidson, victor over Erskine and Wofford, and hardly considered a major football power, still dominated team statistics. The southern school leads in rushing, passing, total offense and total defense. UCLA, second behind Davidson, was best among major schools in total offense, followed closely by Dana Bible's Texas squad.

Statistics of individual leaders showed Travis Tidwell, Auburn's freshman backfield star, overtaking last week's leader Bob Thomson of Virginia Military Institute, in total offense. Tidwell gained 252 yards against Furman last Saturday to make his record 429 yards for two games.

Pickaway County War Chest To Be Dissolved January 1, 1947

NO FUND DRIVE PLANNED IN '46 GROUP REVEALS

War Chest Treasury To Meet Local Needs And County USO Contribution

Pickaway County Community War Chest will pass out of existence Jan. 1, 1947, it was announced Tuesday by Frank Fischer, chairman of the organization.

He explained that this decision was reached at a recent meeting of the board of trustees and that a resolution providing for the dissolution of the War Chest at the beginning of 1947 was adopted.

The trustees also voted that the funds remaining in the treasury shall first be allocated to all local agencies which since 1942 have participated in the War Chest, and it was announced that these funds are sufficient to meet the needs of the agencies until July 1, 1947.

Funds remaining after such allocations, Fischer said, were voted to the 1946 campaign of the United Service Organizations, and that it appeared this amount will be approximately enough to meet the 1946 Pickaway county quota of the USO, which is $2,845.

No 1946 fund drive for other purposes will be held, Fischer asserted.

"In passing the motions," Fischer said, "it was the general feeling that the purposes had been fulfilled for which the trustees of the Pickaway County Community War Chest had been appointed early in 1942, and that any future Pickaway County Community Chest to meet local needs subsequent to July 1, 1947, should be formed if and when such local agencies might decide. The Pickaway County Community War Chest has met all goals for local needs and the needs arising out of the war for the five-year period 1942 to 1946."

Edward J. Rohrer, 65, Tiffin, driver of an automobile which struck and killed Frank J. Clark, 65, Route 3, Circleville, was exonerated at an inquest held at 5 p. m. Tuesday at Ashville by Dr. Lloyd Jones, Pickaway county coroner.

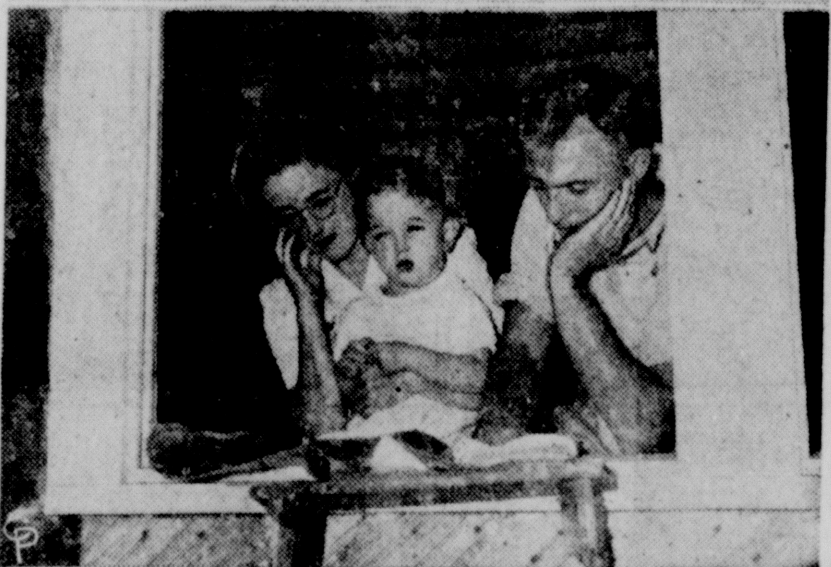

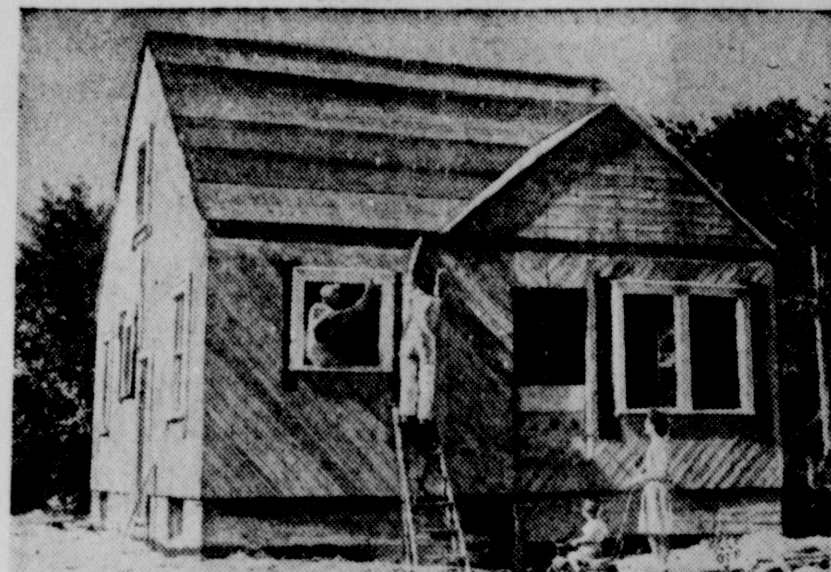

The fatal accident occurred last Saturday afternoon when Mr. Clark was walking across U. S. Route 23 after leaving a barber shop at South Bloomfield. The coroner announced Tuesday night a verdict of accidental death. Testimony of Rohrer and others, at the inquest, indicated the accident was unavoidable.

COUNTY GETS HOUSING FUNDS

Pickaway Commissioners To Use Money From State To Help Veterans

Sum of $24,224.58 in state funds has been received by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners, it was disclosed Wednesday to finance veterans' housing. The cash is part of the $6,000,000 appropriated by the Ohio Legislature under the veterans' housing bill.

A few weeks ago the board of county commissioners passed the resolution necessary to obtain the money and forwarded it to State Treasurer Don H. Ebright at Columbus, who had notified the commissioners that $24,224.58 had been allocated to Pickaway county.

In just what manner or when the money will be used for veterans' housing was unrevealed Wednesday. However, under the state law the cash can be expended only for veterans' housing.

Franklin county commissioners at Columbus have announced they ordered 50 prefabricated 4-room aluminum houses for veterans and that the houses will be placed on sites now being selected. They said the houses will rent for about $30 a month and will be ready for occupancy before Christmas. The houses were purchased with Franklin county's share of the state emergency housing money.

Under provisions of the state housing law the county commissioners must report to the state treasurer twice yearly as to the housing steps taken within the county. The reports must be made
